CHINA'S NEED. Machinery and Industrial

Propress.

China's desire to make industrial progress is evidenced by he purchases of machinery which has, however, received a check says "The British Trade Review. In the earlier part of 1924 the demand for the equipment, of new factories and commitments against capital was very dull owing to financial stringency. The great number of inquiries placed before machinery, importers were evidence that the desire to purchase and the need for machinery were as strong as ever; lack of money, however, on the part of intending buyers prevented further developments. Towards the middle of the year there was a distinct improvement, old estimates were revived, and serious business was started on a healthy basis; orders were placed and the prospects when business is negotiations advanced to the point again resumed. of fulfilling the hopes which had been entertained for 1924. The New York Settlement.

In its latest report on the Shanghai Market, the "N. C. Daily 19

News" says:-China merchants have generally been spending their time in adjusting their accounts for the New Year settlement. In some lines, principally export, Chinese firms have done well during the past year, but there is no doubt that heavy losses have had to be faced in various departments of the import trade, for instance in piece goods. Nevertheless the annual settlement" is being carried through without any serious disturbance, and reports of firms going into liquidation are the reverse of numerous. As is only to be expected trade has been very quiet during the week, although not altogether neglected, and it is satisfactory to be able to state that a very considerable amount of optimism is being displayed with reference to

The results of diminished nerve-force comprise headache, loss of sleep, indigestion, easily induced fatigue, disinclination for bodily or mental exertion, loss of memory and a lack of vigour in all physical functions. To overcome these conditions science has produced Sanatogen. The gain through its aid. is permanent; it builds up, fortifies and strengthens because it is a real cell food."

These are the words of Dr. Claude L. Wheeler, the well-known scientist. They prove what Sanatogen will do for you. And remember that DR. WHEELER is only one of 24,000 physicians who tried Sanatogen and wrote to the makers about the splendid results obtained.

A tonic, the value of which has been proved so often and so clearly, is surely worth while trying.

Start taking Sanatogen to-day and see how it will revitalize you, how it will overcome that/debility and listlessness, how it will give you sound skep at night and healthy energy in the day:

DEAD PRIEST ALIVE. HONOURED IN MISTAKE BY HIS CITY.

WAR SHOOTING SEQUEL.

The city fathers of Dreux, a famous French cathedral city, have discovered that a worthy priest, after whom they named a street, and whom they believed had been shot by the German during the war, is very much alive

The city council inquired of the Bishop of Nancy for details of the supposed shooting of the priest, and received a reply suggesting that the council should ask the priest personally, and adding:—
He is fully acquainted with the circumstances of his sup-

that he will be pleased to give you the fullest information. The priest had never been shot at all, but the city councillors had confused his name with that of another paster who has never been heard of since the German army occupied his village in 1914.

THOSE NICE SHORT NOTE

Mr. Ralph Bretherton will find plenty to sympathise with what midnight. he says in the "Daily Mail" on the aubject of letter writing. He

Your perhaps, can dash off a MOVEMENTS OF STEAMERS note. I have known people say, "I'll write to him." sit down then and there, write, and in a couple of minutes seal up the envelope. In a trice they have done what might have had me fuming and fretting and toiling for an hour.

The little note is, indeed, something quite beyond me. Perhaps it is because I write very small; I cannot write just a line. That locks altogether too niggardly in my hand, and I have to add something to fill up a little more of the desert white of the page. That something is often hard to find. Really, I have no more to say than that I will be there at the appointed time; but I can't leave it at that, as folk can whose bold hand will spread out in saying it. down towards the bottom of the sheet. I must put in something lelse, some friendly or humorous lobservation that has to be dragged from goodness knows where, and I am a worn and weary man before I have need to look for a Business, of course, does demand letters; there is no escaping them altogether. But I have no joy or faith in the few business letters that I do write. Frankly, want them back the moment they have gone.

Advantage of Dictation.

I don't dictate, as the majority of men do. Dictation helps, no doubt, giving you time to write more letters. But it makes some writers very long-winded. I know merchant, who follows: up his quotations for a cargo of wheat with long literary essays on all sorts of subjects. He hardly leaves room for his signature at the foot of the second of two closely typed sheets. Correspondence is with him the spice of

That no very serious accidents

there are no very great number of bicycle-owners in the Colony, and that machines seen on the road, are in the main, hired. In this case, there is no apparent difficulty in meeting a situation with possibilities of danger in it. Hongkong's business thoroughfares were never intended trick cyclists and for those who find keen enjoyment in getting along, at an exhibiariting speed. Outside roads should offer inducements to bicycle riders, for they are good roads, and of sufficient width to allow cycling to be done in comfort. Next to walking, there is no more exercising way of getting to see the beauties of the island and the New Territories. Cycling on these grounds alone, is to be encouraged. Our criticism is merely directed at the practice-common to hasty youth of doing unnecessary things and taking unnecessary risks.

London, Feb. 18. General Smuts, in a message to the "Daily News" from Capetown, declares that "the proposal for a general enlargement of the League Council at present will be understood as a device of a pack in the Council to deal a smashing blow to the League and the work accomplished at Locarno. The League is often lamentably weak, but at least its character has not been damaged. This proposal would injure it far more than all the failures of the last five years. The defenders of the League and what is probably the last hope of Europe should veto it.

"And what of Locarno and all the high hopes of yesterday? Locarno is in the melting pot, and we may find the Locarno spirit: suddenly changed into a blight on the new-born hopes of the future. Germany's magnificent offer of conciliation has opened a new chapter 3 for Europe. "For her Locarno means the voluntary, deliberate, and final renunciation of Alsace-Lorraine. Is this nothing to France? ... Is this I to be lightly treated, and are

Within a minute of the re-start the Hongkong team had equalised from a corner, Humberstone meeting a nicely placed centre from Macklesworth and headed it past Moulem (2-2.)

Hongkong took the lead from a free kick on the half way line; Mitchell sent nicely into the centre and Gosano headed past with Butler worrying the goalie, (3-2.)

Rain Comes On. Shanghai levelled up through Johanssen who, receiving a long pass from Phillips, cut in and beat Rodger with a perfect shot... (3-3).

Rain had now come on and the ground and the ball were, both getting slippery; this led to Hong. kong's fourth and last goal. American Balloons.

The American makers of rubber toys have invented quite a number. of comical characters for the amusement of small boys (says) the "Manchester Guardian.") There is Black Sambo, Daddy-boy, Noisy Jim who does not belie his name, Billie Whiskers. Tabby Good Luck the Broadwalk Chicken, and many others. All these have to be inflated, and some of them, especially .Daddyboy and Noisy Jim, emit a fearful shrick if the air blown into their bodies is allowed to escape. Toy balloons are very much in evidence at present in America. They are seen in all colours, shapes, and sizes, and no party, dance, or entertainment will be complete without them; at least, the makers hope not.

A Safe Tramcar.

There is something almost romantic about the new tramcar which is shortly to be placed on one of the London routes. Mechanical devices have been employed in its construction to such an extent that it may be considered as nearly accident proof as modern ingenuity can make such a vehicle. A door which automatically releases a step for alighting when opened has already been in use on private omnibuses, and its application to tramways should serve to ensure greater safety, especially when, as in the case referred to, the door cannot open except by the car being brought to a standstill. A car of this type is already in use on the Mound-Hanover Street route, in Edinburgh, but the London design has other features. The Doormat at No. 10.

Mr. Bernard Shaw has had installed at the main entrance of 10 Adelphi Terraco a doormat which appears with Mr. Shaw's own appearances in town and disappears in accordance with the same rule (says an "Evening News" writer.) Mussolini's Popularity.

Should any doubt linger in the mind as to "Signor" Mussolini" popularity it would be dispelled by a glance at the room of his secretaries, which was stacked almost to the ceiling with the New Year presents sent to the "Duce." It is an extraordinary assortment, from portruits in gorgeous frames of obscure citizens who fondly imagine that they bear a striking resemblance too their hero shampoo powders and bottles hair restorer. There are so many presents of fruit, sweets, wine, and oneself in a grocer's shop until one looks at the boots, the walkingsticks, the pictures, the books. All | i this accumulation is disposed of every two or three days for various charitable purposes, only to make room for the fresh supplies that pour in daily. The letters and telegrams, divided into packets, are pilled on the chairs and divans. Needless to say, many of the letters are insufficiently stamped, and these are remorselessly charged for NOW CONTROL CONTRO by the Post Office. Some of them are addressed in any fashion that appealed to the fancy of the writer rather than in the conventinal style: "Mussolini the elect of God," for instance, after the manner of the ancient Hebrew prophets. A tailor from the South sent him an overcoat with his initials embroidered in blue and 🚟 yellow silk. Another gift is of a pair of boots of the fines: leather in red, white, and green (the national colcurs), and another pair 62 is made entirely of iron. Almond cake, gingerbread, crackers, and puddings of the most varied shapes and dimensions are other tributes. The climax was reached when a sugar statuette of a Fascista appeared, swathed in white linen. and looking more like a clead baby
